State Legislatures requiring Naturalization Test along with HSE

CT Turner with the GED® Testing Service reports that two state legislatures (AZ and ND) have passed legislation requiring that recipients of a high school diploma (including a high school equivalency certificate) also pass the Naturalization Test.

“It seems that it’s being pushed by the Joe Foss Institute, and will likely get strong traction in states with republican governors or controlled legislatures,” CT notes.

CT provided the links to the AZ and ND legislation.
