Congratulations and Thanks to Margaret Kirkpatrick

Our colleague Margaret Kirkpatrick (CO) is retiring this spring. We appreciate the contributions she made to our work including serving on the NAEPDC/NCSDAE Executive Committee. We will miss her and wish her well. I asked her what she plans to do in retirement and we are pleased one of her activities will be returning to the Leadership Excellence Academies as one of the trainers.

Margaret wrote: My last day is May 15- coming right up. I have found a new passion- costume design and construction with little theater groups. I've been working with my daughter's group and have contributed to Pirates of Pinzance, Les Mis, and Nunsense. I'm going to be working with a children's theater production this summer. Lots of fun, and really different. Also, I'm going to continue training with Leadership Excellence Academy, because I can't totally leave adult education and educators- been too much a part of my life for all my working career (and we won't even say how long that was). Of course, as every new retiree says- lots of travel and more time with my grandchildren (also true!).
