Colleague Question: Data Systems under WIOA

Our colleague Toby Maguire (MA) has the following inquiry:

Here in MA, we have an aging homegrown data collection system and we are trying to decide whether to keep trying to update it or to invest in a shiny new model, like LACES. I would like to find out what systems other states are using and how they feel about them.

Please respond directly to Toby at toby.maguire@doe.mass.edu who will compile the responses and share via NVC.
